ACTION IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

CoPIRG

FROM THE DIRECTOR

DEAR MEMBER

The efforts of PIRG staff, members and friends in the past year resulted in the reduction of air pollution, the prevention of toxic threats to our health, and stronger protections for consumers. In this report, you can learn more about the research, advocacy and grassroots action that make a positive difference in people's lives on these issues and many others.

It's a mission that we carry out in a political climate too often characterized by mutual disrespect and negativity. Yet every day, we still find opportunities to do good by focusing on state-level action in Colorado to bring people together to find common ground and solve problems that affect all of us. We're grateful to each of our members, volunteers, donors, friends and supporters like you, who make it possible for us to do all we can to advance the public interest. It is truly our privilege to get to do this work together.

Danny Katz
Executive Director

MEMBER SPOTLIGHTS

“I pledged my support to PIRG 30 years ago or so because I want my children and grandchildren to have the benefits of clean air, water and overall environment. I see daily reminders of how much damage we have done and know that fixing that damage starts with me.”

Matt C.V., Member

“PIRG keeps me informed. A variety of topics are covered from individual changes I can make to larger government issues that I can at least sign letters of concern. I greatly appreciate PIRG for fighting for a safer, healthier world.”

TOXICS & PESTICIDES

STOP
PFAS NOW

We reduced toxic threats putting our health at risk

We passed one of the country's most comprehensive laws restricting the sale of consumer products containing PFAS (or per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances) in Colorado. The CoPIRG-backed law will also restrict PFAS in fluids used in oil and gas extraction.

This past January, we celebrated the culmination of years of PIRG advocacy when the Pentagon announced that it would stop purchasing firefighting foams that contain PFAS. PFAS have been linked to health issues including cancer, and these foams were a major source of drinking water contamination. PIRG supporters also helped send 48,000 petition signatures to Columbia Sportswear, urging the retailer to phase PFAS out of its products.

TRANSPORTATION

We're transforming Colorado's transportation

In 2022, our Transform Transportation campaign made it easier for Coloradans to get around while polluting less. In May, Gov. Jared Polis signed a CoPIRG-backed law to expand bus service statewide and offer a free month of public transit in August, when ozone pollution is at its worst.

Colorado also made the nation's largest per capita investment in electric school buses, allocating $65 million to transition from diesel buses to electric alternatives.

And in September, U.S. Sen. John Hickenlooper joined our staff to celebrate Colorado's electric vehicle growth and to highlight the ways the federal Inflation Reduction Act can help us build on that success.

MORE ACTION IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

STOP THE OVERUSE OF ANTIBIOTICS

Robert Banez

In October, a report from our research partner U.S. PIRG Education Fund found that most grocery chains reviewed failed to address antibiotics overuse. PIRG supporters sent more than 17,000 petitions to Trader Joe's, urging the grocer to eliminate the routine use of antibiotics in its private-label meat supply.

PIRG WATCHDOG CONSUMER

In May, President Biden signed the PIRG-backed Safe Sleep for Babies Act into law to ban infant sleepers due to the risk of suffocation. And the 2022 edition of the "Trouble In Toyland" report warned parents about the risks of smart toys that gather children's data, increasing the chances that it will be exposed in a hack.

SAFER STOVES HEALTHIER HOMES

Staff

As evidence mounted that gas stove pollution is toxic to our health, PIRG worked to get Americans the information they need to keep their families safe. Our supporters sent 5,000 petitions urging Best Buy to inform its customers about the risks, and we got the word out through events and in media.

RIGHT TO REPAIR

Ted Gotwalds

Consumer and disability advocates celebrated in June when Gov. Polis signed the nation's first wheelchair Right to Repair bill into law. It requires powered wheelchair manufacturers to make the parts, tools and repair manuals available to owners and repairers at fair and reasonable prices.

HIGH VALUE HEALTH CARE

Washington Journal/CSPAN

After winning the federal No Surprises Act, PIRG's Patricia Kelmar worked to make sure that the final rules implemented were as strong as possible in 2022. PIRG urged the Biden administration to stand firm to protect patients and avoid accelerating the rise of health care costs.

GET THE LEAD OUT

As the school year came to a close, Gov. Polis signed a CoPIRG-backed bill into law to protect children from lead exposure in school drinking water. Colorado will dedicate $21 million toward making sure child care centers and public K-5 schools test all drinking water sources for lead and install filters as needed.

50 YEARS OF ACTION & RESULTS

CoPIRG is part of a federation of independent, state-based, citizen funded Public Interest Research Groups. Together, we have a long legacy of victories in the public interest—including state and local wins that have provided blueprints for action nationwide.

1971: First PIRGs founded

Students start the first college campus chapters of Minnesota PIRG, Missouri PIRG and Oregon Student PIRG. PIRGs form in 20 more states over the next decade, and U.S. PIRG is founded in 1983.

1982: MASSPIRG saves the Bottle Bill

After winning a 9-year campaign to pass the Bottle Bill, MASSPIRG faced a new challenge: an industry attempt to repeal it. More than 8,000 citizen volunteers got to work, ultimately helping to defeat the repeal with a convincing 59% of the vote.

1984: PIRG hits student voter registration milestone

PIRG's newly launched National Student Campaign for Voter Registration registers 750,000 student voters in its first year, increasing the registration of 18- to 24-year-old voters by 17%.

1986: PIRG wins drinking water protections

PIRG plays a key role in passing strong new federal Safe Drinking Water Act amendments to better protect groundwater sources of drinking water and increase the pace at which contaminants are regulated.

1989: 'Trouble in Toyland' report sparks action

PIRG's first annual "Trouble in Toyland" report is released, warning parents of the hidden dangers of certain toys on the market. U.S. PIRG Education Fund has since published 36 other reports, resulting in more than 150 recalls.

1989: MASSPIRG wins law to reduce toxics

MASSPIRG authors and wins the passage of the Toxics Use Reduction Act, requiring industries to publicly disclose their use of toxic chemicals for the first time and plan for future reductions.

Five decades ago, groups of college students began investigating problems from shady business practices to illegal pollution. They called themselves PIRG—Public Interest Research Groups. CoPIRG and the PIRG network are celebrating 50 years of action for a change.

1998: PIRG wins reduction of pesticides in schools

CALPIRG, MASSPIRG and Maryland PIRG help win a series of laws to reduce the use of pesticides linked to cancer and other serious health problems in public schools throughout the 1990s and early 2000s.

2010: PIRG helps create CFPB

PIRG co-founds a coalition that, alongside U.S. Sen. Elizabeth Warren, wins the creation of the federal Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB). Since opening its doors in 2011, the CFPB has helped return $16 billion in relief for consumers.

2012: PIRG helps win national clean car standards

Following years of advocacy by the state PIRGs, the Obama administration implements new national clean car standards calling for the average mile-per-gallon standard across the U.S. fleet of cars to hit 54.5 by 2025.

2014: California bans single-use plastic bags

After building support in cities and counties, CALPIRG helps pass the nation’s first statewide ban on single-use plastic bags in California. Ten more states follow suit over the next decade.

2015: Tyson Foods announces antibiotics phase-out

PIRG helps convince the nation’s largest poultry producer, Tyson Foods, to commit to no longer using medically important antibiotics in their chicken, paving the way for other corporations to follow suit.

2018: PIRG helps win free credit freezes for consumers

In the wake of several high profile data breaches, including at credit bureau Equifax, PIRG helps pass a federal bill ensuring access to free credit freezes for all consumers to help prevent damage from identify theft.
